SECURITY SHREDDING IS THE LAW

NEW SECURITY REGULATIONS ENACTED

In 2003, the Federal Trade Commission enacted new legislation designed to decrease the risk of identity theft and consumer fraud. The Fair and Accurate Credit Transactions Act (FACTA) bill requires financial institutions and creditors to properly dispose of sensitive personal data and information gathered on clients and employees. To assist further in the prevention of information leakage, the new rules require the implementation of written policies and procedures for secure document destruction.
